WHOLE GRAIN PRODUCTS SAID VITAL TO HEALTH

The nutritional values contained in whole grain cereals and whole wheat bread are vital to health, it is emphasized by Miss Margaret E. Smith, Director of the Health League of Canada's Nutrition Division.

These whole wheat products, she says, contain liberal quantities of energy-producing starches, most of the important "B" vitamins, some necessary minerals, and a fair amount of protein to supplement that obtained from animal products.

Miss Smith points out that most of the minerals and vitamins are present in the bran layer and germ of the grain kernel. She says that in the milling of ordinary white flour and processed and white cereals the bran and the germ are removed.

She advises use of liberal quantities of rolled oats, oatmeal, rolled and cracked wheat, wheat germ, shredded wheat, graham and whole wheat bread, also rye and barley bread, and brown rice.

Everyone interested in this work is invited to attend this meeting.

PEPPER PRICE ADJUSTED

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced an upward adjustment in the price of imitation pepper which will amount to a two cent increase at the consumer level for a one and a half ounce container.

Board officials explain the new prices reflect an advance in the price of whole pepper bulk purchased by the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation.

Ways To Eliminate Warbles In Cattle

The season for treating warbles in cattle is now at hand and will continue until early summer.

The warbles, which appear along the back and sides of the animals, start to emerge at various times in different parts of the country and some extent the exact period varies with the individual animals.

Much has been made known about the losses sustained each year by the cattle industry as a result of the damage caused by this pest. When laying its eggs, the female of the species terrifies the animals in the field, causing gadding. This uneasiness prevents peaceful grazing, which cuts down milk production of dairy herds, retards growth of young cattle and reduces gains in beef cattle.

During the winter, the parasite develops into the familiar large grayish grub from a very minute one that was hatched from an egg laid on the leg or flank of the animal. The grub enters the body through a hair follicle.

The development of these grubs is a constant drain on the animal and a source of irritation. This results in costlier gains in fattening animals.

To emerge in the final pupal stage the grub makes a hole in the skin of the animal. This damage is done in the part of the body where the grub is located and in this way thousands of dollars are lost each year due to warble damage.

Warblers in Western Canada who have treated their herds claim that the small cost of the treatment and the effort required in treating are more than repaid in the ease with which they handle on the range during the summer.

The solution to this important problem is simple but it is a matter of major importance to the individual and to the industry. If all cattle were treated 100 percent for a few years the warble fly would virtually become extinct. The only way it can live, from one season to the next, is in the grub stage in an animal. A solution containing a percentage of rotenone, the active ingredient in the wash, will kill the grub. The job is to make the application.

There are various ways in which this can be accomplished—some simple, some elaborate. But one method or another is adaptable for every livestock producer in the country.

In the West, where there are large herds and the animals are not stabled, much progress has been made by the use of power spraying machines. Considerable numbers of animals can be treated in a short time by herding them through a squeeze and spraying the backs and sides thoroughly. The pressure from the spray is so great it parts the hair on the animal, thus exposing the skin to the wash.

The power spray method has been adapted for stably cattle standing in the stall or loose in a pen. Due to the length of hose required to reach from the machine located in the yard outside the barn the pressure is somewhat reduced. This difficulty might be overcome by the use of machines with higher pressure or by handling the animals in a method similar to that on western ranches.

A simpler, but perhaps more arduous, method which has proven satisfactory for smaller numbers in a herd is the application of the solution with a stiff bristled brush. The brush must be well wetted and the back of the animal brushed vigorously, thus removing the scab and allowing the solution to contact the warble. Areas where the method was practised by farmers several years ago made real progress and where vigilance was maintained the pest was virtually destroyed.

Another method suitable for smaller herds and found to be a practical way of doing a good job is with a regular size machine oil can filled with the solution. The scab is lifted off by the end of the oil can spout.

INDIVIDUAL NEEDS

Just as no two fingerprints are identical, health experts declare that individuals have particular needs, and that hard and fast rules, therefore, cannot be laid down for medical treatment of everyone. That is why, say National Health officials at Ottawa, practice must be adapted to cases, and why it is essential that, before treatment, each individual must have medical advice concerning his or her essentially personal requirements.

Left to mourn are his wife, one daughter Ethel at Toronto and one son William at Irma. Also one brother R. J. Milburn who resides in Seattle Wash.

The funeral took place on Monday, April 7th, in Irma from the United Church with Rev. Ingles in charge of the service. McLeod's funeral parlors were in charge of all arrangements.

A number of flowers were received from relatives and friends.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Pearl Ida Archibald, after a lingering illness of several months.

The late Mrs. Archibald was born in Colville, Wash., U.S.A. in January 1904 and came to Alberta with her parents in 1908. Later in November 1922 she was married to Mr. Ivan Archibald in Wainwright and they settled in the Irma district where they have resided to the present time.

Left to mourn are three daughters, Ayliva, Lomona and Shirley and three sons, John, Mighon and Ronnie all living at home.

The funeral was held on Saturday, April 6th from the Irma United Church with Rev. Ingles officiating. McLeod's funeral parlors were in charge and internment took place in the Irma cemetery. Pallbearers were Messrs. L. Jones, A. Braut, J. Kennedy, H. Larson, Percy and J. Belliford. A large number of floral tributes were received in respect for the deceased.

Wainwright Golf Club Needs Old Carpet

The organizational meeting of the Wainwright Golf Club was held in the Masonic Hall Monday evening, March 31st, when a goodly attendance was noted.

After much discussion a new slate of officers was elected for the coming year with Mr. J. Mitchell, president and Mr. H. A. Barlow, vice-president; and Mr. L. A. Koch, secretary-treasurer.

It appears from the meeting that enthusiasm is running high in Wainwright regarding golfing this year, and it is hoped that the course will be ready for play by the time that the ground is dry.

The serious shortage as far as the golf club is concerned is the lack of an old carpet for swabbing the greens. It was expressed that if any person has any old carpet or rug that they are not in need of it would be appreciated by the club members if this could be donated to the golf club.

At the present time a caretaker has been hired and is busy putting the club in order. Tentative plans were laid for the staging of a golf competition on May 24th with competitors being staged to further interest in the game.

Membership fees were also set at this meeting and seem quite reasonable at the undermentioned prices: A full family ticket is to cost $7.00 with a single man ticket set at $5.00 and a single ladies ticket at $3.00. It was felt that this year a students ticket should be offered for the many students that are interested in golf, and these were set at $1.00.

NUFF SED

Sambo turned up at the police station. "Chief, sah, Ah needs protection," he said. "Ah, done get an unanimous letter this morning," which says, "Nigger, let mah chickens alone!"

"Why do you want protection," asked the chief of police. "Just leave the chickens alone, and you'll be all right."

"Dat's all right boss, but how does Ah know whose chickens Ah've to leave alone?"

and a small amount of the solution squirted into the hole made in the hide by the warble before it actually emerges. This simple operation has been used for treating a considerable number of cattle with a minimum of labour and at very small expense.

The United States agricultural department forecast a 1947 wheat crop of 1,212,000,000 bushels.

OBITUARY

MR. JOHN WILLIAM MILBURN
One of the pioneer settlers of the Irma district died on Wednesday, April 2nd, last week, the late Mr. John William Milburn who passed away at the age of seventy-one years.

He was born April 22, 1876 in Chelsey, Ontario and came to Irma in 1898 where he homesteaded and made his home since.

Left to mourn are his wife, one daughter Ethel at Toronto and one son William at Irma. Also one brother R. J. Milburn who resides in Seattle Wash.

The funeral took place on Monday, April 7th, in Irma from the United Church with Rev. Ingles in charge of the service. McLeod's funeral parlors were in charge of all arrangements.

Pasteurization Favored By A.M.A. Food Council

The Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association is of the opinion that "the public should demand pasteurized milk for drinking and the use of pasteurized milk in milk products."

An editorial in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association states that "the value of pasteurization of milk in preventing the spread of milk-borne disease is now well established." The editorial quotes an official statement of its Council on Foods and Nutrition as stating, in part:

"The pasteurization of milk is a public health measure. The public should demand pasteurized milk for drinking and the use of pasteurized milk in milk products. The dairy trade should universally adopt pasteurization in the interest of public health. Only pasteurized milk is granted recognition by the council. There is no cogent evidence that pasteurized milk is significantly inferior nutritionally to raw milk."

Feeling Fit

When truly well, a person is generally unconscious of the bodily processes, but, say the health experts, twinges and aches turn thoughts to the vital organs and their functions, and make people acutely aware of themselves.

In taking stock of the system, authorities urge that only thoroughly qualified professional medical people be allowed to make the overhaul and prescribe the treatment which may be indicated.

Cash and bonds totalling $24,000 were found in the clothing of an 80-year-old man admitted to a Nova Scotia institution.

Mr. G Tondou Dies At Ripe Old Age

The Gilt Edge district lost one of its early settlers last week by the death of Mr. George Tondou who passed away at the home of his son-in-law Mr. William Laverne on Friday morning, April 4th, at the age of eighty-nine years.

The late Mr. Tondou was born in Kahnawake, Quebec, in July 1858, was married in Thorsau, Quebec, his wife having predeceased him just two years ago in April 1945. He moved with his wife and family to the Gilt Edge district in 1910 and settled on their farm north-east of Wainwright where the family still reside.

For the past few years he had resided at the home of his eldest daughter Mrs. W. Laverne, and had enjoyed good health despite his age, until quite recently when he gradually grew weaker and passed away as stated above.

Left to mourn are six daughters, Ida (Mrs. Laverne) of Wainwright, Clara (Mrs. D. Bendor) of Bonnyville, Emma (Mrs. O. R. Smith) of Marwayne, Cecile (Mrs. J. Bradley) and Edith (Mrs. J. Schultz) both of Vancouver and Les of Calgary; also six sons, Paul and Pelma of Vancouver, Elanor of Victoria and Joe, Henry and Louis at Wainwright as well as sixteen grandchildren.

The funeral took place on Tuesday April 8th at 10:00 a.m. from the Blessed Sacrament (R.C.) Church with Rev. Father J. P. Edmunds officiating. McLeod's funeral parlors were in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers for the deceased were Messrs. O. Croteau, J. Stinert, P. Condon, H. Sorenson, L. Babb and W. Laverne. Interment was in the Wainwright cemetery. A number of floral tributes were received from the family and friends.

W.P.T.B. Warns No
Price Rise Ice Cream

There have been no price increases allowed for ice cream cones or "revels" Edmonton headquarters of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board warned today after receiving complaints from a number of country points that some merchants were charging higher prices.

"It would appear that many country storekeepers are of the opinion that a price increase has been authorized for these two ice cream confections. This is not the case," declared an official of the Board.

"Under date of January 27 of this year, a Wartime Prices and Trade Board order allowed an increase price for ice cream at the consumer level amounting to eight cents per quart, two cents per quart and one cent per pint. Such increases may be added to the lawful price which existed prior to the date of the order. The order definitely states that any ice cream novelty or any other ice cream confection was not affected by this increased price."

"This has most definitely not allowed any increase in price of either ice cream cones or 'revels' in retail establishments," the official pointed out.

Churches Crowded Easter Sunday

Despite the chilly weather Sunday morning (Easter Sunday) the churches in Wainwright were crowded to capacity at both morning and evening services.

Special music and sermons were the order of the day, which everyone enjoyed. In most churches in the town special seating accommodation had to be arranged.

The morning weather was not considered the best for the Easter parade, although many new toys were noticed. The afternoon took on a different atmosphere and the sun shone brightly and the weather warmed considerably.

HEALTH TECHNIQUE

Declaring that it took timing and teamwork to put the "Y" in triumph for the Allies in the war, National Health authorities submit that the same techniques suit health to a "Y," too. They explain: there is perfect teamwork in the coordination of the bodily functions. Timing, as translated into regularity in eating, working and sleeping, enables all the processes of living to fulfill their respective roles with the precision and ease essential to fullest physical well-being.

EXPLORERS NOTES

The Explorers held their meeting in the classroom of the church on Tuesday, April 1st, with two new members joining. The remaining attendance stars were given out. After the meeting the girls had a popcorn social which was enjoyed by all. The next meeting is Friday, April 11th, when all girls are asked to bring their sewing.

CHOOSE THE B of M.

Nearly half a million Canadians began saving at the Bank of Montreal during the war years. Today, the B of M family of depositors has well over a million and a half members.

Many of our customers know this: what they can spare today they may need tomorrow. So—bit by bit—their nest-eggs grow.

These are the people who have been fighting the battle of inflation—doing a good turn for their country and a good turn for themselves.

These people know what saving means—they know that growing dollars mean growing confidence—that a "backlog" in their bank account is the first step to achieving personal independence and to getting those things they want most.

Why not follow the lead of more than a million Canadians and begin saving now at the B of M?

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY APRIL 9th, 1947

PRICES NOW MORE ON THEIR OWN

With last week's announcement through the press and over the radio, the price ceiling on more articles are off. This might leave a feeling of bewilderment to some people, but sooner or later that announcement had to come.

Ever since 1941 and 1942 the price of every article at one time or another was controlled by the Dominion Government, even to the extent of the taxpayer paying more for his goods via the indirect route of subsidies. This control that we have become so accustomed to has meant a great deal of work to the government as well as increasing the squeeze on the manufacturer or merchant as the case may be.

With rising cost of production due largely to wage increases granted by authority of the War Labor Board, the manufacturer has had to still sell his goods within the price ceiling set by the government for that particular article. You can readily see how utterly foolish it would be to expect price control to continue forever. It is impossible within the borders of a democracy. If free trade is to flourish in Canada and the United States, there must be as little interference within the country from Ottawa on the matter of prices as possible.

The removal of the price ceiling on certain articles would be out of the question yet, for such things as rents, and certain foods, must still be controlled or chaotic conditions will be the result.

The action that has occurred in Ottawa within the last week is without a doubt, certain to cause a temporary hardship on all classes of wage earners. We say temporary because in our humble opinion, we see it only a matter of a short time when there will be available such items as are now not obtainable. This is the most needed thing in Canada today.

It is a well known fact by everyone that some lines of merchandise are harder to obtain now than during the war years. This in many instances is because, during war time trade and export restrictions were imposed and articles that normally were for distant countries found their way to the consumer market in Canada. For the past year or so, these trade and export restrictions have been lifted and there has been an abundance of free trade with other countries. Everyone knows just how near impossible it is to obtain a man's white shirt. It isn't impossible to buy a white shirt in South America, in fact they are readily obtainable, being displayed in the stores. We are speaking of knowledge gained through correspondence with a Canadian now living in South America who has an oil concern. He has stated in his letter that different things are to be had in that country that are almost non-existent here. He has quoted the price at $8.00 for one of Canada's better known shirts.

We are not advocating a price jump to $8.00 before shirts are again on the open market, but again in our humble opinion, it is because of price controls that we have not been able to buy many articles that there is a crying need for in Canada today. If these articles are to be had it apparently is to be at a higher cost. This will cause many tempers to fray and explode, but it will be just a matter of time and the old normal price controller of supply and demand will take effect. This has been shown to a marked degree in the United States when their price control went last winter. Prices skyrocketed as first, which is the natural trend, but in a matter of two or three months they rose and fell to find their own level eventually. Today in the U.S. some prices are higher than formerly and some prices are lower than they were under the ceilings.

The same will likely be true of this country. One thing for sure, as long as there is a maximum price for any article of service there will never be a minimum. It will just be a matter of time now until things find their own true price range and the consumer once more becomes the boss of the merchandising plan, which we were all so accustomed to prior to 1941.

Hints for the Household

A FLAVOROUS PIE
Cream pie is good. Chocolate or orange cream pie is better. But orange-chocolate cream pie is best—in my estimation at least. And now that whipped cream is back you'll want to make and enjoy such a pie soon. The various flavors blend into a delightful ensemble and "the memory lingers on," long after the last bite has been enjoyed. So, if you want a flavorful, glamorous pie, try this recipe:

Orange Chocolate Cream Pie
2 squares unsweetened chocolate; 2½ cups milk; 1 cup sugar; 6 tablespoons grated orange rind. Yolks, slightly beaten; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 baked 9-inch pie shell.

½ cup cream, whipped; 2 tablespoons grated orange rind. Add chocolate to milk and beat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine sugar, flour, and salt. Add gradually to chocolate mixture and cook until thickened, stirring constantly; then continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour small amount of mixture over egg yolks, stirring vigorously. Return to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Add butter and vanilla and cool. Turn into pie shell. Chill. Pie whipped cream lightly around edge of pie to form a 1-inch border. Sprinkle cream with grated orange rind.

"DIXIE" WAFFLES

The name is "Dixie" son, but north or south, east or west, waffles are as delightful for supper as they are for breakfast. Whip them up—it's simple. Serve them immediately—while they are hot. Let each member of the family or each guest use the syrup or spread that is most appealing. Then everyone will be delighted with this dish of Southern inspiration.

Dixie Waffles
2 cups sifted flour; 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1½ cups milk; 6 tablespoons melted shortening.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture, add shortening, then mix ONLY until smooth. Bake in hot waffle iron. Serve hot with butter or margarine and maple-flavored syrup. Makes six 7-inch waffles.

NOTE: If desired, 1 cup chopped nut meats or blueberries may be added to batter just before baking.

Sweet Cream, Sour Cream, or Sour Milk may be substituted for sweet milk in above recipe. If sour cream or sour milk are used, sift ¼ teaspoon soda with dry ingredients. If cream is used, omit shortening.

A SAUCEPAN SAVORY

Have you ever made a gelatine dessert in a single saucepan? It can be done—from package to mold in five minutes.

"Seems impossible" you say. Well! Here's the recipe which features a new "speed-up" method developed for an unflavored gelatine. So get a supply, bring out your saucepan and give your guest a delightful surprise tonight. This dessert is a festive one, suitable for even a holiday meal.

Minute Lemon Jelly
1 envelope speed-up gelatine; ¼ cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1½ cups water; ¼ cup lemon juice; ¼ cup orange juice.

Combine gelatine, sugar, and salt in saucepan. Add water and fruit juices. Heat over medium flame until gelatine is dissolved, stirring constantly—about 2 or 3 minutes. Pour into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve plain or with custard sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Canned Fruit Mold: Reduce sugar to 2 tablespoons, omit salt, substitute canned fruit juice for part of water, and add 1 to 1½ cups diced or sliced canned fruit, drained, to slightly thickened gelatine. Makes 6 servings.

HOME-MADE GINGERSNAPS

Children are always interested in a "circus" party, where little circus folk and animals are handed out as favors and the gingersnaps have been out with animal cookie cutters.

Here's a recipe for Bran Gingersnaps that you will find even better than those humorous bites that always seemed to be in Grandma's cookie jar in "the good old days" which we'd do well to bring back in this respect!

As for circus favors they may be found in special "circus boxes" of three popular, ready-to-eat cereals obtainable during the month of April in your local stores.

Bran Gingersnaps
1½ cups sifted flour; ¼ teaspoon soda; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ tablespoon ginger; ¼ cup molasses; 6 tablespoons butter or other shortening; ¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1½ cups 40% bran flakes.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt, and ginger, and sift again. Place molasses, shortening, and sugar in saucepan and cook gently 2 minutes, stir constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Add bran flakes and mix well. Then add flour mixture and mix thoroughly. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with 1½ inch cookie cutter. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 10 minutes. Makes 6 dozen gingersnaps.

Hot Beds and Window Boxes

Where one cannot buy started plants or where one wants to start ones own, the hot bed or window box supplies the answer. In these, seeds are planted fairly early in March and after transplanting and hardening off they are ready to set outdoors when weather and soil are warm. Such things as cabbages, tomatoes, head lettuce, cucumbers, etc., are handled this way, among the vegetables, and petunias, sinners, cosmos, among the flowers. Indeed any plant that will transplant can be started in these beds and from three weeks to a month or so of extra growing season added.

The hot bed consists of a deep layer of fresh horse manure to supply the heat. Over this is placed a rough frame of boards, and on top is placed a window sash. A good government bulletin will supply all details. On the manure is placed about 2 inches of good garden soil and in this, after the manure has heated and cooled again, the seeds are planted in rows about 3 inches apart.

In the window box, which is a shallow affair about 3 inches deep, only good soil is necessary.

After the seed has sprouted and developed a second set of leaves the plants are thinned to about 2 inches apart. On warm days some ventilation should be provided and the soil should never be allowed to dry out.

After the plants are about 2 inches high they are usually transplanted to roomier quarters, and for at least a couple of weeks they should be hardened or made ready for permanent planting outside by being exposed to full weather.

Nursery Stock

All shrubs, trees, bushes, vines, etc., that are grown or started in a commercial nursery are termed nursery stock. There is a wide range in price and just as wide in quality. The real test is whether or not the stock will grow quickly and sturdily. If the roots are dry and the upper part of the plant shrivelled, brownish and lacking buds, then one can be quite sure he paid too much for the stock. It will probably die or take three or four years to get really growing. Healthy stock, on the other hand, will come along quickly with hardly a check, especially if handled carefully. Plants, shrubs, vines, etc., should be kept cool and moist and if they cannot be planted in their permanent location right away they should be "heeled in", that is temporarily planted in a trench with the soil heaped up well above the roots. When replanting it is advisable to supply plenty of water and keep watered for the first few weeks. Planting is best done in the cool of the evening or on dull days, and some shade from hot sun is advisable with tiny things.

Good Combinations
For the average layout, use a combination of vines, shrubbery, trees, perennial flowers and annuals. At the back against the house, vines and tall shrubbery, the latter planted in clumps, make the best background. In front of this groups of smaller shrubs and larger perennial flowers can be planted with the room between, especially when the shrubbery is still small, filled in with clumps of annuals. Along the front tiny edging plants are used, then will come a piece of green lawn. Use clumps rather than straight rows and a wavy edge along the front of the bed is preferred to straight edges.

FARMING NOTES

By Prov. Dept. of Agriculture

PASTURE FOR POULTRY

Although the domestic chicken is not regarded as a grazing animal it normally requires and is capable of eating considerable amounts of green grass or pasture growth to supplement the cereal grains and other foods which comprise the major portion of its diet, says W. W. Cram, Dominion Experimental Farm, Indian Head, Sask.

Good pasture crops and favourable range conditions serve two main purposes in the life of the chicken. Young tender pasture growth is rich in most of the vitamins that are lacking in cereal grains and it also provides important quantities of proteins and minerals, consequently there is less need to buy supplements necessary for an adequate diet. Further, favourable range conditions provide a natural, healthful environment in which overcrowding, unsanitary conditions and other related problems are reduced to a minimum.

It is necessary that pastures for young stock be well removed from the main poultry houses and mature stock so as to prevent disease and parasitic infection of growing birds by direct contact or through infected soil. Whenever possible the use of the same land in successive years should be avoided, a rotation of two or more years being best for the control of diseases and parasites. If the same land must be used each season cultivation will help destroy soil borne infections.

When land is scarce or perennial pastures are not available, annual crops are used to advantage. Oats and fall rye seeded together in spring at the rate of two bushels of oats and one bushel of fall rye per acre, will usually provide satisfactory pasture—the oats during late spring and early summer, the fall rye in late summer and fall.

Where permanent or perennial pastures are used, the legume and grass crops, alone or in combination, that are best adapted to the district for livestock pastures and crop rotations are generally suitable for poultry. It is important, however, to provide land that has not been used by poultry the previous year, or preferably for two or more years. If perennial pastures make considerable growth in spring before being used or during the pasture season, they should be cut back to about three inches so the growth will be tender and palatable.

Shade on range is necessary and if not otherwise provided, a few rows of spring seeded sunflowers will serve the purpose.

CHICK CARE

C. W. Traves, Poultry Commissioner, warns against over crowding of chicks. It may cause serious outbreaks of disease or by retarding development, result in poor quality carries through to maturity and has a decided influence on production. Most brooder houses will accommodate 250 to 300 chicks but regardless of size of the house, 400 chicks should be the maximum in one lot.

Brood chicks as cool as possible but be sure to see that they are comfortable. Use a thermometer as a guide. Do not guess at the temperature. Be sure that there is plenty of fresh air and at the same time make certain that the chicks are not subject to draughts. Regular attention is essential. Never allow drinking fountains, feed troughs, or hoppers to become empty. Use plenty of wheat straw litter on the floor. Oats and barley straw are not as satisfactory as wheat straw for litter. The floor should be cleaned often—the litter should never be allowed to become damp or filthy. Dead chicks should be removed and buried immediately and disinfectant used liberally.

Old birds and young birds should not be allowed to run together. Older birds are carriers of some diseases that may cause very severe losses in the growing birds.

NOTE FOR BEEKEEPERS

W. G. Le Maître, Provincial Apiarist, says that many hives fail to produce well because some detail in early spring care of the packages has been neglected.

Bees become paralyzed at temperatures below 45 degrees and even at 57 degrees they become relatively inactive. Only when they raise the hive temperature to over 90 degrees do bees produce brood. To do this they must be protected against cold and well fed.

The beekeeper can do much to help his colony build up strength in the spring by placing the hive in a sheltered location, wrapping paper around it, and reducing the entrance to no more than one inch in width.

For proper feeding the hive should be provided with two or three combs of honey and two or three combs of pollen saved from the previous year. This feeding should be supplemented by feeding sugar syrup. At no time must the hive be allowed to run out of food.

World Of Wheat

THE EVILS OF HIGH TARIFFS

If all the evils that upset the people of the world were added together in one scale of a balance, and tariffs were put into the other scale, it is probable that the latter would weigh down; for tariffs obstruct the trade and commerce of the world, and obstruct the ready exchange of the badly needed farmers' foodstuffs for the goods and commodities that foreign people make.

The League of Nations was of the opinion that the high tariffs set up by the United States and Canada in 1930 had a great deal to do with bringing on the severe world depression in the 1930's, which brought with it untold surpluses and such low prices to farmers, such unemployment, hardship, desolation and hunger to the whole world.

This April there will be an international conference called to see what can be done to have the countries of the world reduce these hampering and evil high tariffs. Whether it succeeds or not, there is nothing whatever to stop Canada from reducing her own tariffs, so encouraging a greater importation of foreign goods into Canada, so automatically encouraging a greater sale to foreign people of our wheat and other agricultural products.

THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS
World wheat production for 1946 is placed at 5.5 billion bushels, 600 million bushels above the 1945 crop, but some 100 million bushels below the 1935-36 average of 6 billion bushels—Poland's loss of winter wheat, owing to unfavourable conditions during recent months, is estimated at some 20 percent of the seeded acreage. World production of oats in 1946 is now placed at 4.3 billion bushels, some 3 percent above the 1945 crop of 4.100 million, but 2 percent below the 1935-36 average of 4,363 million bushels.—The United Kingdom wheat acreage goal for 1947 is set at 2,500,000 acres, and the goal for 1948 at 2,000,000 acres.

CONTINUATION OF COUNCILLOR STAFFORD
APPOINTED DEPUTY MAYOR

On motion of Councillor Wallace, that Report of Public Health Committee relative to delegation attending Hospital Meeting in Edmonton in conjunction with Board of Public Utility Commissioners and sponsoring the building of a thirty bed hospital at this point, be received and filed.

On motion of Councillor Tery, that time of this meeting be extended until 11:30.
On motion of Councillor Wallace, that the Report of the Property and Assessment Committee on Proposed Peace Memorial Centre, hearing date of April 1st, 1947, be accepted by Council and the recommendation included therein be complied with.

On motion of Councillor Coleman, that Wainwright Municipal Hospital District's 1947 Requisition, in the sum of $3500.00, as mutually agreed upon be accepted by Council and the Secretary-Treasurer instructed to pay same in equal quarterly installments.
On motion of Councillor Tery, that Councillor Stafford receive the appointment of Deputy Mayor for the ensuing three months.

On motion Council was regularly adjourned.

Wainwright, Alta.

April 1, 1947

To the Mayor and Council

Town of Wainwright

We your Committee on Assessment

and Property

Beg to report as follows:-

Re: Proposed Wainwright

Peace Memorial Centre

We have read the letter from the Provincial Department of Municipal

Affairs, the report from Dr. H. C.

Wallace president of the Peace Memorial Committee, and have had an interview with our Solicitor.

In our opinion there is no serious obstacle in the way of the proposed

Peace Memorial being completed in the near future, providing good business principles are followed.

The Municipal Inspector has pointed out that, "Certainly your expenditure of Town monies must be definitely limited by the by-law assented toby your proprietary electors, that is the only subject upon which we can give you definite advice".In view of the above, before a by-law can be prepared and a vote of the electors taken authorizing that $10, 000.00 be set aside for Memorial purposes, it will be necessary either to cut down on the size and cost of the proposed Memorial to well within the amount of money on hand or wait until the funds can be built up to completely finish the building desired.When either of the above conditions is met by an accepted tender from a responsible Contractor and protected by blue prints, designs of detail, schedules of quantity etc., then we are of the opinion that the by-laws could be prepared and a vote taken.For the present, we would recommend that the Peace Memorial Committee be asked to supply a set of the above mentioned plans and specifications for the Town files, so that they will be available to our engineers at all times.

Respectfully submitted

C. W. STAFFORD
